

PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD'S DECISION

APPELLANT: Frances Wojcik
DOCKET NO.: 04-23526.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 04-35-123-019-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Frances Wojcik, the appellant, by attorney Rusty A. Payton of the Law Offices of Rusty A. Payton, P.C., Chicago, Illinois; and the Cook County Board of Review.

The subject property is a 42-year old, one and one-half story frame dwelling containing 2,359 square feet of living area with a partial, unfinished basement, a fireplace, and a two-car garage. According to the appellant, the dwelling is one-story with 1,825 square feet of living area.

The appellant submitted evidence before the Property Tax Appeal Board claiming unequal treatment in the assessment process as the basis of the appeal. In support of the equity argument, the appellant submitted a grid analysis detailing three suggested comparable properties. On the appellant's map, one of the comparables is located in close proximity of the subject; one is located approximately one-half mile from the subject; and one is located approximately one mile from the subject. According to the appellant's grid analysis, the comparables are one-story or one and one-half story frame dwellings that are 51 to 74 years old. However, a photograph of one of the comparables indicates that the dwelling is multi-level, not one-story. One comparable has a partial basement; one has an unfinished basement; and one does not have a basement. Each comparable has a fireplace, and one has central air conditioning. Photographs supplied by the appellant indicate that at least two comparables have two-car garages. The dwellings have living areas that contain 1,851 to 2,159 square feet, and their improvement assessments range from $13.92 to $17.52 per square foot. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $19.85 per square foot based on 1,825 square feet of living area; however, no evidence in the record

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

IMPR.:	$	36,221
TOTAL:	$	45,240

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

supports that square footage. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's assessment was disclosed. In support of the subject's assessment, the board of review offered property characteristic sheets and a spreadsheet detailing three suggested comparable properties that are located in the same tax block as the subject. The comparables are one-story or one and one-half story frame or frame and masonry dwellings that are 43 to 46 years old. Two comparables have full, finished basements, and one comparable has a partial, unfinished basement. Each comparable has a two-car garage and one or two fireplaces. Two comparables have central air conditioning. The dwellings have living areas that contain 1,880 or 2,461 square feet, and improvement assessments that range from $17.73 to $19.12 per square foot. According to the board of review, the subject property has an improvement assessment of $15.35 per square foot. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Property Tax Appeal Board further finds that a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted. The appellant's argument was unequal treatment in the assessment process. The Illinois Supreme Court has held that taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). The evidence must demonstrate a consistent pattern of assessment inequities within the assessment jurisdiction. After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has not overcome this burden.

Both parties presented assessment data on a total of six equity comparables. According to the property characteristic sheet for the subject property, the subject property is a one and one-half story dwelling with 2,359 square feet. According to the appellant, the dwelling contains 1,825 square feet. The best evidence available to resolve this is the property characteristic sheet for the subject property provided by the board of review and a photograph of the subject property provided by the appellant. Both seem to indicate that the subject property is a one and one-half story dwelling with 2,359 square feet of living area. The appellant's comparable three differed significantly in location, design, size, and foundation from the subject; comparable two differed significantly in age; and comparable one differed in location and design. As a result, the appellant's comparables received reduced weight in the Board's analysis. The board of review's comparable two differed in size, design, and exterior construction, and also received reduced weight. Although the board of review's comparable one differed in design and comparable three differed in exterior construction, these two comparables were the most similar to the subject in location, age, and most physical characteristics. Located in the same tax block as the subject, these comparables had improvement assessments of $17.73 and $19.12 per square foot that support the subject's improvement assessment of $15.35 per square foot. After considering adjustments and the differences in both parties' suggested comparables when compared to the subject property, the Board finds the subject's per square foot improvement assessment is supported by the most comparable properties contained in the record, and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

As a result of this analysis, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds the appellant has not adequately demonstrated that the subject dwelling was inequitably assessed by clear and convincing evidence, and a reduction is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board are subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
